

HAND POURED TACKLE

Lots of tackle in today's world is mass produced by multi-million dollar machines in secret warehouses run by robots in cold far off lands. Not our idea of tackle. When we set out to build the world's finest poured tackle, we didn't have to look very far. These individualized works of art are hand poured with our molds and are given all the love and attention that you yourself would provide. Maybe you don't have the time to pour, maybe you just like to spend your time painting, whatever the reason, we understand. It's about making something the right way...your way.
